STUDIES in PHYSICAL SCIENCE. The Sun; Transit of Venus; Spectrum Analysis; the Moon; the Stars and Planets; Comets and Meteors; Atmospheric Electricity; Whirlwinds; Glaciers; the Telephone. By W. J. MILLAR, C.E., Secretary to the Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders in Scotland; Author of "Principles of Mechanics," &c.

"We can confidently recommend Mr. Millar's volume to the attention both of teachers in search of an elementary text-book, and to private students, as well as to the general reader. It unites the utmost lucidity with strict scientific accuracy, and deals with ascertained facts rather than with vague theories."—Greenock Daily Telegraph. "This work consists of chapters from several sciences, astronomy, electricity, heat, light, &c. They cover a good deal of ground, and include subjects as wide apart as whirlwinds and spectrum analysis, glaciers and the telephone."—Liverpool Albion.

Published at 21, Castle-street, Holborn.

A MEDLEY of NOTABLES: What they said and What others said of them. By G. F. S.

"This little book contains on one side of each page a quotation from some well-known author, and on the other side a brief notice of this author by other authors. If we turn to Shakespeare, for instance, we find quoted Dame Quickly's description of Falstaff's death, while there are given notices of Shakespeare by Keats, Ben Jonson, Browning, Barnfield, and by some anonymous writer who likely enough is the editor. From him we learn that 'Shakespeare went before all men, and stands in the array of human intellect, like the sun in the system, single and unapproached.'"—Saturday Review.

Published at 21, Castle-street, Holborn.

A BRIEF DEFENCE OF SUPER-NATURAL CHRISTIANITY. Being a Review of the Philosophical Principles and Historical Arguments of the book entitled "Supernatural Religion," by JOHN KENNEDY, M.A., D.D., Professor of Apologetic Theology in New College, London.

Published at 21, Castle-street, Holborn.

SHADRACH.

3 vols., 31s. 6d.

"'Shadrach' is a charming story. If it is the work of an unpractised hand, and the conception of a young and fresh mind, it deserves the welcome accorded to every new development of talent. Few first flights in the wide domain of fiction have offered a better promise of future strength and brilliance at any rate within the past year or two."—Athenaeum.

THE TEMPLE BAR MAGAZINE.

"Temple Bar is just the thing to take to the sea-side. The articles are short, chatty, and various. Mr. Charles G. Leland has an amusing and veracious episode—'Captain Jonas Smith.' There are two pleasant, gossiping essays in the ana style on the souvenirs of Madame Vigée Le Brun and on Tallement des Beaux, who wrote, like so many Frenchmen, 'Memoires pour Servir,' &c., in the seventeenth century—both excellent examples of the best kind of light reading, and we are grateful for light reading nowadays even in the magazines. The character of Boswell is defended against Macaulay's attacks in an ingenious article."—The Examiner.
